The MBTI® tool is the most widely used personality instrument in the world, with over two million taking it annually. It is a self-report personality questionnaire used to measure and describe people's preferences for how they like to get information, make decisions and orient their lives based on Carl Jung's theory of psychological type.

The MBTI® tool's wide-ranging applications promote growth and development in many organizational settings, including business, counseling, and education. The tool is widely used for team development, leadership development, coaching, counselling, stress management, career transition and planning, improving communication, decision making and emotional intelligence.

Course Details

The course is intensive and highly interactive, requiring some prior reading. Topics include the theory on which the MBTI instrument is based, how to administer the various forms of the instrument and how to interpret and explain the results. New additions to content include using MBTI results for conflict resolution, team building and leadership development.

To ensure understanding of key learning points and the ethical and professional use of the instrument, a series of short multiple-choice questions will be administered each day which will lead to successful completion of the certification program.
