The SuperStrong™

Meeting your needs

The SuperStrong™ is available exclusively through the VitaNavis™ application. VitaNavis uses both tried and true personality indicators and the latest behavioral science to recommend real world action steps to our users to help them achieve their goals in life. The first step is the Strong Interest Inventory®, used for decades to help users align their personal interests with “life pathways”, both career and personal, and now made easier and more accessible in the new SuperStrong update.

Your Guide to Performance

VitaNavis was created to combine expertise in data science and cutting-edge technologies with decades worth of peer reviewed and scientifically validated assessment data to conduct personality and behavioral research in the areas of education, people analytics, and healthcare. Continuing The Myers-Briggs Company's 60-year commitment to improving people's lives through a better understanding of themselves and others, we are dedicated to making our proven insight accessible to all people as they make decisions at critical points in their lives.

Let's make a difference together. Talk to us today to see how.
